SOME PEOPLE THINK ALL ANNUALS ARE ALIKE.

NOT SO.

An annual is only as good as the ingredients that go into it. It is a book which derives its contents from the happenings at a particular school during an assigned calendar year. Its purpose is to record and entertain and if its cost is four and a quarter dollars, it should give four and a quarter dollars worth of recording and entertaining.

The ingredients of this 1966 WEICON are, primarily, those which the staff feels will contribute toward making this annual truly your companion!

To the Seniors:

Congratulations to each one of you as a member of the Class of 1966 of the Conrad Weiser Area High School. This distinction indicates the continuing confidence your teachers have in you. We trust that the work in the classroom, participation in activities, and the cultural environment of our school have equipped you well to cope with the problems of a rapidly changing world.

As you look forward to graduation you are approaching the last milestone of free public education, a high school diploma. This achievement, which is of more than ordinary significance, represents not only your own application of time and effort but also the considerable investment of your community, the help and guidance of teachers, and the sacrifices of your parents. By being the best person you are capable of being -- both morally and spiritually as well as in your chosen vocation -- you will assure yourself a successful and satisfying life. More than that, you will be showing parents, friends, and neighbors that today's youth are worthy of their confidence. In your heart you will ever be grateful to your donors for the opportunities they provided.

May your achievement henceforth bring personal success and reflect credit upon your Alma Mater.

With sincere best wishes,

ADMINIS- TRATION

Each year as the members of the senior class approach that last day of their public school career, I usually reflect on the experiences the staff and myself have encountered in our relationships with the class. We believe the vast majority of our individual contacts have been rewarding. However, continued reflection causes one to wonder if each graduate has truly caught the spirit of integrity we believe is inherent in Conrad Weiser. Has each senior completely accepted the true values of national loyalty, personal and civic honesty, and high moral-ethical standards which are hallmarks of an educated person? The degree to which you have accepted these challenges is the measure of our success at Weiser. The degree to which you have not accepted these challenges is equally a measure of our failure. We wonder then at what point on these scales does your future appear to be in balance? As you reach out to receive your diploma I hope your actions will continue to be an indicator of your acceptance of the high standards we have endeavored to impart to you over the years.

Dr. Sidney B. Willar
High School Principal

ON EDUCATION

Education should not be a weathervane responsive to every variation of popular whim

It must at times give you, not what you want, but what you need

The future of the Nation depends absolutely upon the continual education of its citizenry
and therefore: Education -- its functional processes must be translated into practical accomplishments humanized

by the Institutions of Society
This is your life's great concern
Best wishes to the Class of 1966 for a life filled with opportunities
for greatness

This is the Data Processing Age. 1956-66 marks the year when Conrad Weiser Schools installed automatic accounting equipment which makes it possible to do many things otherwise impossible. Nationwide use of electronic equipment has eliminated many unskilled positions in the labor force so that today "White Collar" workers outnumber others. Personnel is necessary to plan and operate the modern equipment. Seniors, as well as others, must be prepared to meet this technological situation. It will require an ever-continuing process of education in order to adjust to these changing conditions of society. If you accept this challenge and its inherent responsibilities, success and happiness will follow. Congratulations to the graduates and best wishes for the future.

MATH DEPARTMENT AMONG THE BEST IN BERKS

One hears, -- "What is mathematics?" It is the queen of sciences, the universal language, but in our world of today, our modern society demands a modern mathematical curriculum. The staggering expansion of mathematical knowledge during the last 25 years has required a new approach to mathematics. Widespread experimentation has given us some concrete answers about mathematical structure as applied to mathematics as a cultural as well as an applied subject.

Above all, we know that a more rigorous program is essential, one that puts sharper emphasis on important mathematical concepts and terms. We must develop a sure foundation for the more demanding mathematics now being taught in colleges and used in industry

"The English program aspires to the intelligent use and understanding of language and literature on the part of all students. Specifically it aims to set high standards of achievement in language, literature, and composition for those who are college bound, and to give the non-college bound understanding of language and insight into the finer areas of world literature and culture."

Scientific knowledge is necessary for the continuance and progression of modern society. Therefore our science classes provide a meeting place where scientific information may act upon youthful intellect and help the students better understand the world in which we live and the outerspaces to which we aspire.

We are interested, however not in a nation of scientists, but in a science-minded citizenry

LANGUAGES BRING FOREIGN CULTURES CLOSE TO US

The study of foreign languages assumes increasing significance as the nations of the world are drawn into closer relationship, and an increasing number of Americans feel the need to be able to communicate in a foreign language.

With this in mind the Conrad Weiser Area Schools offer four years of German and four years of Spanish in the modern language field, and two years of Latin as a classical language.

HISTORY THE KEY TO KNOWLEDGE

"History will help you, a free American, to understand more clearly what is going on around you, and to realize that what happens anywhere in the world can affect your whole way of life.

Out of the past, the world of today has grown and future worlds will grow. The more one knows about the past, the better he is able to function in the present, and the more enjoyment he can get from everyday living.

COMMERCIAL COURSE REMAINS POPULAR.

The typewriter is a very intricate machine dependent on the proper functioning of its parts. But machines and society are dependent upon people who understand machines, people who are capable of assuming responsibility, people who can organize details. The ability to accomplish this involves more than learning to type and write shorthand; it involves training in order and discipline. The commercial student works to become as coordinated and effective in his work as the machines he knows so well.

NEW INSTRUCTOR ADDED TO EXPANDED VO. AG. COURSE.

The Vo. Ag. course at C.W. moved forward this past year in many respects. Mr. E. G. Summers, a graduate of Penn State, started his teaching career under the guidance of Mr. Barrett. Both Mr. Barrett and Mr. Summers are working half days with the adult farmers. They are also conducting evening classes. New areas of instruction were introduced. One was a course on small engine maintenance and repair, pictured below.

STUDENTS LEARN FIRST AID

The rewards for physical competence are many, but recognition aside, the motivating factor for physical fitness should be self-respect. Through a knowledge of our physical framework, our complex body mechanisms, we can learn to respect the many physical capacities we have. Such a respect should result ultimately in our desire to develop these capacities to their fullest.

MUSIC

When I hear music I fear no danger,
I am invulnerable, I see no foe. I am related to the earliest times and to the latest.

Henry David Thoreau

This year, though it had handicaps, the music department flourished. Under the direction of Mr. Mills, the senior marching band did well in all the parades it attended. Mr. Mills also presented the dance band, brass ensemble, and the concert band, at their best,
during assemblies and other school functions.

Miss Fidler, a substitute music teacher, did a fine job with the ninth grade chorus' Christmas assembly.

All students and faculty were happy her first week back in school, she eagerly started work on the show and

GUIDANCE

This department is perhaps one of the most important in the school. Mr. Shuman and Mrs. Grant are counselors for college-bound students as well as for those who plan to work after graduation.

Beginning with the Sophomores, counseling periods are arranged with the students. They are designed to help the student decide what his plans will be after graduation and how to prepare for them before graduation.

DRIVER EDUCATION

This compulsory course has greatly insured the safety and good driving sense of all students taking it.

Movies, lectures, and on the road training provide an excellent preparation for young drivers.

Mr. Snyder can

STUDENTS USE LIBRARY FACILITIES

Throughout the year the student spends many hours picking out small details for reports, enlarging his knowledge of current affairs, and reading novels for his own pleasure. But perhaps more important is that through reading he may ask himself, "What am I?" The question may arise quite often and finally bring him face to face with self -- that quality which keeps him a distinct individual. He may come to realize that self has meaning only in relation to others, that he is really many different people at many different times.

The Happiest Millionaire is a story of a man who has everything but happiness. He is a millionaire, but he is lonely. He has a large estate, but he is not loved. He has a beautiful wife, but she is not his. He has a large family, but they are not his. He has a large fortune, but he is not rich. He has a large house, but he is not home. He has a large life, but he is not living. He has a large heart, but he is not kind. He has a large soul, but he is not good. He has a large mind, but he is not wise. He has a large body, but he is not strong. He has a large voice, but he is not heard. He has a large presence, but he is not felt. He has a large legacy, but he is not remembered. He has a large name, but he is not known. He has a large reputation, but he is not respected. He has a large power, but he is not feared. He has a large influence, but he is not followed. He has a large impact, but he is not felt. He has a large life, but he is not living. He has a large heart, but he is not kind. He has a large soul, but he is not good. He has a large mind, but he is not wise. He has a large body, but he is not strong. He has a large voice, but he is not heard. He has a large presence, but he is not felt. HOCKEY

During mid-August a majority of the team members attended a special hockey day camp at the Governor Mifflin School. For five days, under the direction of U.S. Hockey Team players and well-known coaches, the girls concentrated on hockey. Starting with basic drills and calisthenics each facet of the game of hockey was explained and practiced until by the end of the week everyone was in good hockey form. An honor team was chosen by the coaches and Weiser had two participants on this team.
